

Tu Bishvat

Zoom Seder

January 28th at 7:30 p.m.

Celebrate the birthday of the trees with a special ceremony complete with ritual foods, learning, and four glasses of wine!

We'll lead you through some learning about the spiritual meaning of different fruits and seasons. In honor of the trees, we'll also talk about issues that affect the environment and how we can help reduce the impact.

Things to prepare at home for this seder (please prepare at least one from each category, but you can have as many from each category as you like!):

- Wine or grape juice, both red and white
- Bread or wheat crackers
- First fruit: Something with an inedible peel but edible inside, like citrus (orange or grapefruit), or nuts (almonds, pecans, or walnuts)
- Second fruit: Something with an edible outside but a hard center like olives, dates, or avocado
- Third fruit: something edible throughout, like figs, grapes, or berries (strawberries, blueberries, or blackberries)
- Fourth fruit: a fragrant herb like mint or dill

We will be using this haggadah, which you can print in advance if you like:
